INDEX TO VOL. LIX.

Adventure at Shakspeare's Birth-place, An, 737.
Alexis de Tocqueville: Statesman and Patriot, 44.
Alison's Life of Lord Castlereagh, 283.
Army and Navy Estimates, Our, 505.
Artillery Prospects, Our, 213.
Art Topics, Stray Thoughts on, 329.

Batch of Last Year's Novels, A, 396.
Biography, Turner's, 72.
Bordelaise, Lolotte, the, by J.D., 236.
Borrhomeo, the Astrologer, a Monkish Tale, 55.
Breach of Promise of Marriage, a Chinese Case of (literally translated), 36.
Browne's, Nurse, Story, 361.
Bygone Manners and Customs. Part I., 515; Part II., 673.

Calderon, Denis Florence M'Carthy's, reviewed, 439.
"Can Wrong be Right." Mrs. Hall's Novel, reviewed, 628.
Casket of Jewels, The, 296.
Castlereagh, Sir Archibald Alison's Life of, reviewed, 283.
Century, Marriage in the Nineteenth, 542.
Charmed Cup of Stratford, a Poem, 308.
Chinn's Greatest River, The Yang-tse-Kiang, 387.
Chinese Case of Breach of Promise of Marriage, 36.
Cloister and the Hearth, The, reviewed, 406.
Codex Zacynthius, Greek Palimpsest of Fragments of St. Luke, examined, 303.
Colonel Jordan's Commerce and Products of the Southern States, reviewed, 29.
Conservatism at Home and Abroad, 755.
Convert to Constitutional Principles—The First Napoleon, a, 228.
Cooper's Creek to Carpentaria, From, 381.
Courage, My Heart! From Heinrich Heine, 22.
County of the Pale, Pagan Relics and Fairy Lore in a, 239.
Customs and Manners, Bygone, Part I., 515; Part II., 673.

Death of the Prince Consort, The, 3.
Denis Florence M'Carthy's Calderon, 434.
De Tocqueville, Alexis, Statesman and Patriot, 44.
Die Geistertodenglocke: The Ghost Dead-Bell, 473.
Disrupted Republic, The, 23.

Fairholt's British Costume, reviewed, 633.
Fairy Lore and Pagan Relics in a County of the Pale, 239.
Fashion, Freaks of, a Dream, 633.
Federal American Minister, The, W. H. Seward, 114.
First Napoleon, The, a Convert to Constitutional Principles, 228.
Flies in Amber, or Immortals by Accident, 582.
Folk-Lore, Leinster, 453.
Foreign Policy, The Conservative, 755.
Forgotten Novels, Part II., 685.
Funerals in Poland, and Weddings, 220.

Garter, The Knight of the: a Poem. By Jonathan Freke Slingsby, 466.
Gerald Massey and Alexander Smith, 62.
Ghost Dead-Bell, The: a Story, 473.
Goldwin Smith on the Colonies, reviewed, 259.
Great Scholars and Great Eaters, 741.

Havelock's March, and other Poems, reviewed, 62.
History and Art, Patterson's Essays in, reviewed, 207.
House by the Churchyard, The: A Souvenir of Chapelizod. By Charles de Cresseron. January—Part IV., Chap. XVII., In which Mr. Dangerfield visits the Church of Chapelizod, and Zekiel Irons goes a Fishing; Chap. XVIII., Dr. Toole's Discourse with Mr. Mervyn; Chap. XIX., A Pleasant Dejeuner by the Margin of the Liffey; Chap. XX., Reveries, Disputes, and General Jollity; Chap. XXI., Two Young People understand one another better; Chap. XXII., A Merry-making kept up by Candlelight, page 5. February—Part V., Chap. XXIII., How the Band of the Royal Horse Artillery played; Chap.

XXIV., The Troubles and Shapes that began to gather about Dr. Sturk; Chap. XXV., Mr. Irons recounts old Recollections about the Tiled House; Chap. XXVI., Mrs. Macnamara Troubled and Haunted too; Chap. XXVII., A Certain Woman in Black; Chap. XXVIII., The Belligerents of Belmont; Chap. XXIX., How Puddock and Devereux brewed a Bowl of Punch, and sang and discoursed; Chap. XXX., Devereux's Fiddle plays a Prelude to "Over the Hills and far away," page 131. March—Part VI., Chap. XXXI., Miss Lilias hears a Stave of an Old Song; Chap. XXXII., Aunt Becky and Dr. Toole visit Miss Lily; Chap. XXXIII., A strange Cocked-hat in a Shadow by the Window; Chap. XXXIV., Some of the Feuds wax Fiercer; Chap. XXXV., A dark look-out; Chaps. XXXVI. and XXXVII., Of a Messenger from Chapelizod Vault who waited in the Tiled House for Mr. Mervyn, page 266. April—Part VII., Chap. XXXVIII., Lily speaks her Mind; Chap. XXXIX., Dr. Sturk seeks a Reprieve; Chap. XL., Charles Nutter and the Silver Spectacles; Chap. XLI., How in the Watches of the Night a Vision came to Sturk; Chap. XLII., Rehearsal in Captain Cluffe's Lodgings; Chap. XLIII., The Closet Scene, part of Polonius omitted; Chap. XLIV., Pale Hecate's Visit to the Mills; Chap. XLV., Charles Nutter, Esq., orders Tea, page 422. May—Part VIII., Chap. XLVI., Swans on the Water; Chap. XLVII., Swans in the Water; Chap. XLVIII., Confusion in the Club-room of the Phœnix; Chap. XLIX., Nutter's Tea; Chap. L., How the Night was passed in the House by the Churchyard; Chap. LI., a Roulean of Guineas and the Crack of a Pistol; Chap. LII., After what Fashion Dr. Sturk came Home, page 567. June—Chap. LIII., In which Miss Magnolia and Dr. Toole, in different Scenes, prove themselves good Samaritans; Chap. LIV., Dr. Pell mounts the Stairs of the House by the Churchyard; Chap. LV., Dr. Toole, in full Costume, illuminates the Company; Chap. LVI., Dr. Walsingham and the Chapelizod Christians meet to the Sound of the Holy Bell, and a Ghost sits in the Church; Chap. LVII., Something remarkable at the Mills; Chap. LVIII., One of Little Bo-peep's Sheep comes Home again; Chap. LIX., What the people thought; Chap. LX., A Coach at the Elms and two fine Ladies dressed for the Ball; Chap. LXI., A Chapter of Hoops, Feathers and Brilliants, and Bucks and Fiddlers, 655.

Iliad of Homer, The Hexameter Translations of Dart and Landon, reviewed, 643.

Immortals by Accident, or Flies in Amber, 582.

Irish Harbours, Wexford, 604.

Italian Question, The, 716.

Lady of La Garaye, The, the Hon. Mrs. Norton's Poem, reviewed, 161.

Language, The Origin and Course of, 749.

Latter Years of William Pitt, The, 525.

Life of Lord Castlereagh, Sir A. Alison's, Essay on, 283.

Lisbon, A Week in, by an Artillery Officer, 351.

Literary and Art Life in London, 480.

M'Carthy's Calderon, 439.

Manners and Customs, Bygone, 515, and 673.

Marriage in the Nineteenth Century, 542.

Max Müller's Lectures on the Science of Language, reviewed, 749.

Memorial of the Irish Prelates, and a National Synod, 148.

Memoirs of De Tocqueville, reviewed, 44.

Mrs. Hall's Last Novel, "Can Wrong be Right," 628.

Mystery in the Rue Pantalon, The, 593.

Magyar Superstitions and Ceremonies, 705.

Mildrington the Barrister: A Romance of Two Syrens. January—Before the Piece begins; Mildrington the Barrister; The Sorrows of the "Half-world;" The First Syren; Queen Mildrington, page 88. February—The Second Syren; Tournay; Mildrington Professional; That Moral Centaur, Man and Wife; Bloom upon the Rye; Honey and Treacle Moons; Countermines, page 194. March—Miss Boleyn; Ball-room Croquet; Young Goodchild's Rout; Dinner Croquet; Called to Court; The Grange; The Bait; The Pitcher going to the Well, page 314. April—Churstone Boleyn, Esq., M.P.; A New Alliance; A Conjugal Detective; Dinner at Sturridge's; Dives Feasts; Dives Revels; The Pitcher at the Well, page 491. May—Parigi o cara; Storm in a Sevres Tea-cup; Tears; The Hero "a Monk would be;" Harmony; Bloom off the Rye; Gala at Churstone; Churstone Prays; A New Visitor; Churstone Castle; the Company, page 616. June—Mildrington's Probation, First Stage; The Manager in Council; The Probation, Second Stage; A Shadow from the East; The Probation, Third Stage; Drawing-room Gymnasts; The Probation, Fourth Stage, page 725.

Napoleon: a Sonnet, by the late Sir Thomas Wyse, 704.

O'Donovan, LL.D., The late John, 85.
Original Annotations of Richard Porson on Sir Isaac Newton's Letter to Mr. Le Clerc, Professor of Divinity of the Remonstrants of Holland, on the Greek Text of 1 John, v. 7, and 1 Tim., iii. 16, 557.

Pamphlets on the Revision of the Liturgy, reviewed, 148.
Palinode, The Scholar's, by Edwin Arnold, 218.
Patterson's Essays in History and Art, reviewed, 207.
Plagiarism, Tannhäuser, reviewed, 106.
Poems:—Courage, my Heart! from Heinrich Heine, 22; Soul and Deity, from Metestatio, by Thomas Irwin, 61; Win and Wear, Part First, by Jonathan Freke Slingsby, 97; Part Second, 183; The Scholar's Palinode, by Edwin Arnold, 218; Lolotte, the Bordelaise, by J. D., 236; To Pyrrha, by R. D. F. S., 282; The Charmed Cup of Stratford, a Poem, by Mortimer Collins, 308; The Knight of the Garter, by Jonathan Freke Slingsby, 466; Rupert's Ring, by Mortimer Collins, 553; Sing Welcome, lovely May, by J. D., 627; Napoleon, a Sonnet, composed in Italy by the late Sir Thomas Wyse, 704; Visions, by Jonathan Freke Slingsby, 684.
Porson, 557.
Prelates', The Irish, Memorial on a National Synod, 148.
Prince Consort, The Death of, 3.
Pyrrha, from Horace, 282.

Reviews:—"Memoirs, Letters, and Remains of Alexis de Tocqueville"—"Thornbury's Life of J. M. W. Turner, R.A."—"The Works of William H. Seward," edited by George Baker—"Tannhäuser"—"Havelock's March, and other Poems," by Gerald Massey—"Edwin of Deira," by Alexander Smith—"The South; its Products, Commerce, and Resources," by Colonel Thomas Jordan, Adjutant-General to Major-General Beauregard—"Eleven Pamphlets on the Revision of the Liturgy, including one on the Revival of Synods in the United Church of England and Ireland"—The Hon. Mrs. Norton's "Lady of La Garaye"—"Patterson's Essays in History and Art"—"Mr. Goldwin Smith on the Colonies"—"Alison's Life of Lord Castlereagh"—"The Codex Zacynthius; Greek Palimpsest of Fragments of St. Luke"—Forgotten Novels of the Former Half-Century, Parts I. and II.—A Batch of Last Year's Novels: "Silas Marner, the Weaver of Raveloe," "Elsie Venner, a Romance of Destiny," "Framley Parsonage," "The Cloister and the Hearth"—Denis Florence M'Carthy's Calderon—Colburn Mayne's "Which does She Love"—"The Opera," by Sutherland Edwards—Earl Stanhope's "Pitt," vols. 3 and 4—Mrs. Hall's Novel, "Can Wrong be Right"—"Fairholt's British Costume"—"The Iliad of Homer" in Hexameter Verse, by J. H. Dart, M.A., Part I.—"Homer: Iliad A," literally translated into English Hexameters, by J. T. B. Landon, M.A.
Rupert's Ring, a Poem, by Mortimer Collins, 553.

Secession and Submission, 248.
Seward, William H., Baker's Works of, reviewed, 114.
Shakspeare's Birth-place, An Adventure at, 737.
Shakspeare Travestied, 170.
Silas Marner, reviewed, 398.
Slingsby, Jonathan Freke, Poems of: Peter Brown—Win and Wear, Part First, 97; Part Second, 183; The Knight of the Garter, 466; Visions, 684.
Smith, Alexander, "Edwin of Deira," reviewed, 62.
South, The; its Products, Commerce, and Resources, by Colonel Thomas Jordan, reviewed, 29.
Syria, The Strongholds of, 699.

Tales:—Borrhomeo, the Astrologer, a Monkish Tale, 55; Nurse Brown's Story, 361; Die Geistertodenglocke, the Ghost Dead-Bell, 473; The Terribly Strange Accident in the Rue Pantalon, 593; The Casket of Jewels, 296.
"Tannhäuser" and Plagiarism, 106.
Terribly Strange Mystery in the Rue Pantalon, The, 593.
Turner's Biography, reviewed, 72.
Tyrone, Story of the First Earl of, Part II., 371.

XUM